DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission of Amendment filed on 6/21/2004 has been entered including amended claims 1-2, 6-8, 14 and 20-22.

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
- Prior art of record fails to teach a plurality of subscriptions, each identified by a subscription user credential including password, user name and authenticable electronic certificate, said subscription providing a logical grouping of data defining a subset of data to be replicated, application implementations, and application-instance security context including roles that said application implementation responds to differently and access control and distribution rules for said subset of data; Executing concurrent replication of subscriptions on schedule or demand in accordance with the said distribution rules for which a password corresponding to said subscription credential for said subset of data provided by a user or found in the database; Replicating a user browser an offline subscription corresponding to one of plurality of subscriptions and containing client-side runtime and frame work for a fully offline server. These claimed elements are in independent claims 1-2, 6-8 14 and 20-22.

- McGee (US Patent 6,393,468) teaches a modified web server comprises a session manager which intercepts all incoming requests form clients for web pages and each request incorporates a token which the session manager compares with tokens which are stored in the session store, whereas Sutter (US Patent 6,446,092) teaches an independent distributed database system comprising a plurality of sites wherein all users at all sites work offline with local data and all application transactions are against the local database and every site stores only the data it needs, Forbes et al. (US Patent 6,381,742) teaches a software package manager uses a distribution unit containing components for a software package and a manifest file that describes the distribution unit to manage the installation, execution and installation of software packages on a computer.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
